As part of the International Collaboration project with the Spanish Agency, it is intended to benefit 93 families in areas not served by the National Electric System in the municipality of Yateras, for them 52 isolated photovoltaic systems of 1.5 kilowatts (kW) were installed in Las Municiones, El Mosquito and La Demajagua communities.

With these solar systems, the inhabitants of these settlements will be able to improve their quality of life, with the possibility of having electricity throughout the day, since today they only receive the service an average of 32 hours a week through diesel generators.

The modules have six solar panels of 330 wattpeak of power, a cabinet with inverter, regulator and two batteries of 200 amps.
